Mr. McCreary (Democrat) gave notice that if the other Democrats would go that if the other Democrats would go with him he would go to the House of Delegates and there, a majority of all elected being present, they would declare the result of the election and that would be legal. If the Republicans did not like this, let them organize the Senate. Mr. McCreary pounded the deak and allowed his face to get red over the violence of his own proposition.

The Democratic Senators did not regard their orator as serious.

Mr. Maxwell began to speak, but Mr. McCallister objected after the first sen-tence, for Mr. Maxwell was saying what tence, for Mr. Maxwell was saying what the Democrats did not want to hear. CHARLESTON, W. VA., Jan. 11.-This afternoon, at half past two, Judge Guthrie and General Goff filed their rethe Supreme Court in prohibition on the any public officer, whose duty it was to perform a certain particular duty expressly defined by the law, from doing that duty where the public was interested in the performance of such duty.

Judge Jackson replied to this argument, virtually conceded the position taken by the reapondents, and was somewhat embarrassed by the pointed inquiries propounded by the President of the Supreme Court. Jackson is to follow Johnson to-morrow, and the argument is to be closed by Mr. Hubbard.

To-night the strength of the Republicans' position is generally admitted, no other conclusion seems to be possible as the outcome of the last legal effort of Judge Fleming's petition, leaving the mandamus of Judge Guthrie intact.

The Speaker decided the point to be well taken.

The Journal was then read, and at its conclusion Mr. Weaver began once more his round of oilatory motions. These were finally interrupted by Mr. Dibble, of South Carolian, who came forward with a conference report upon the Sentate bill forthe crection of a public building at Milwaukee, Wis., which, nowithe standing Mr. Weaver's protest, the Speaker ruled was of higher privilege, even than a motion to adjourn.

As agreed to in conference, the bill approvides for the creation of a building at an ultimate cost of $1,200,000, and the report having been read and the previous question demanded by Mr. Dibble, Mr. Weaver moved to adjourn. The Speaker decided that as the rules gave a conference report precedence over a motion to a place of the read and the previous question demanded by Mr. Dibble, Mr. Weaver moved to adjourn. The

DEAR SIR:—I have always said to your riends, as well as to you, that your re-noval from the office of Judge for the erritory of New Mexico did not in the sast imply a charge or conviction of disduct. In the condition of affairs at that time, I deemed it my duty to proinply pursue the course so unfortunate for you, and which was adopted by me upon the mere showing of the fact alleged without inquiry as to your motives and purposes. My action was unfairly harsh, but I thought it was justified.

Often since that time, as all the facts attending the incident have become known to me, and as I reflected upon your otherwise unexceptional judicial career, so far as it has come to my knowledge, I have been impressed by the representations of your frends that your removal had subjected you to a suspicion which was unjust and unwarranted.

that the sugar trust is illegal, is of very large importance. No change occurs as yet in prices of sugars and it may be premature to suppose that other forms of agreement escaping the legal objections found in this case, may not continue to control markets. There are signs in Europe that the copper trust is trying to cast upon the public part of the accumulating load through the organization of a copper bank.

THE INTER-STATE COMMISSION.

Recommendations in its Annual Report.

The Law Has Been Beneficial.

New York, Jan, 11.—In their second annual report the Inter-State Commissioners say that outside of roads affected by ocean competition between the Atlantic and Pacific, the long and short Church are just now in a critical condition and there are indications that there may be great difficulty in meeting the current expenses of the society and conducting its mission work. This was strongly brought out at the annual meeting last evening. The receipts during the past year have been only a trifle over 820,000 and the expenditures have exceeded the amount by $2,000. In concluding a long article on the condition of Mr. Bescher's old church, the Post agays: In the face of this showing, Dr. Abbott, who was paid $6,500 last year, wants his salary raised to $10,000 a year.
